The Council of Ministers has issued an amendment to a 1950 decree on the housing of public agencies. In the future, artisans as well as producers' cooperatives will be regarded as public agencies. Allocation of business premises will be the responsibility of the Housing Committee for Public Agencies, and the decisions of the committee will be final.

Implementing the above amendment, the National Planning Office has issued executive orders specifying the following six ways for the procurement of housing for public agencies:

1. Erection or restoration of business buildings
2. Allocation of all or part of the premises occupied by another public agency
3. Requisition of unoccupied business premises
4. Allocation of building lots
5. Allocation of all or part of business premises
6. Requisition of certain private dwellings, if no other method is possible for the housing of public agencies

In the event of requisition, either monetary compensation will be paid or other premises will be allocated to the former tenant by the committee.

[Note that, since the decisions of the Housing Committee are final, provision 6 above might enable the arbitrary eviction of persons from their private dwellings.]
